TECHNIQUE OMITTED IN "PAID IN FULL" HERE SATURDAY

Eugene Walter Desired Players to Speak and Act Like People Under Normal Conditions; Was Successful.

The seat sale for "Paid in Full," to happen at the Elks' theater on Saturday night under the direction of Wasenhals and Kemper company began this morning and was very gratifying.
The cast that will appear in Albuquerque is the original road cast and also played a long time engagement at the Astor in New York City. Miss Edna Brothers, as Emma Brooks, is the star.

George C. Tyler, head of the theatrical firm of Liebler & Co., congratulated Eugene Walter on the technique of his play, "Paid in Full."
"But it has no technique, whatever that is," replied young Mr. Walter.
"Technique and all those theories of construction that have hedged the drama for time beyond reckoning, I tried zealously to evade. I wanted to see if normal people, who spoke and acted like human beings, under actual conditions, couldn't be made entertaining on the stage." As Mr. Walter now draws a princely sum each week in royalties, from this play, there would seem to be some truth in the old adage about "The proof of the pudding."

Our black cat stockings for men,

HIGH SCHOOL WILL HAVE STAR TEAM ON THE COURT

Captain McCanna to Give Eight Players Opportunity to Play Against Indians New Year's Night

Basketball enthusiasts are looking forward eagerly to the double-header which is scheduled for New Year's night in the armory between the boys and girls of the Albuquerque high school and United States Indian school teams. The high school boys are out aggressively after the game.
Captain Joe McCanna announced today that eight players will alternate during the halves. The "big eight" include Stamm, Laprak, R. McCanna, forwards; Bill Grimmer, Chet L., Red Balcomb, guards; Shuffelbarger, J. McCanna, centers. The Indians will probably announce their lineups tomorrow. All four aggregations have been putting in much of the time during the holidays in practicing and some skillful playing may be expected. Following the two games there will be a dance. Fifty cents will pay a person's way to both games and the dance.
